Talmadge Dead At 62

Fiery Georgian, Four Times Elected Governor, Succumbs Less Than Month Before Inauguration

ATLANTA, Ga.—(INS)—Death early Saturday ended the colorful political career of Georgia's Gov.-elect Eugene Talmadge.

The fiery, 62-year-old campaigner for white supremacy died at 7 a. m. (EST), less than a month before he was slated to take the oath of office for a fourth term.

ago. He lapsed into a coma late Friday night, and according to attending physicians the red-gallused orator succumbed without pain.

His death immediately left doubt as to the successor to the governor's chair, from which youthful Ellis Arnall ousted Talmadge four years ago. Political and legal experts were at sharp disagreement over the question. The disagreement arises from three interpretations of the state constitution's provisions in the matter.

Three Schools of Thought.

One faction insists the members of the legislature should elect a governor in Talmadge's stead. This group says Talmadge's son and campaign manager, Herman, would be chosen for the job.

Another group declares that Gov. Ellis Arnall should continue in office for another four years.

Still another school of thought believes the lieutenant governor should fill the office.

Legal sources close to the governor's office support the theory that Gov. Arnall could, if he wished, stay in office another four years. They cite the sentence in the constitution of Georgia which says the governor shall hold office "during the term of four years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified."

Court Test Foreseen.

One clause of the constitution forbids a governor to succeed himself, however, and some observers believed quo warranto proceedings might be brought against Arnall should he attempt to continue in office.

Two physicians were in the room with the governor-elect when he died. They were Dr. Askew and Dr. O. E. Hines.

Need Juvenile Court Stressed Hydrant Prank

5 Boys Admit Charge; Complaint Against Three Girls Dismissed

"This is one case where a juvenile court is needed and this court is not equipped to adequately handle juvenile cases," Municipal Judge Fisher stated Saturday in considering the case of five boys and two girls who appeared to face charges in connection with the opening of three fire hydrants in the vicinity of Twenty-fifth and High streets Thursday night.

Complaints against the two girls and one girl whose father would not permit her to appear in court were dismissed by City Prosecuting Attorney Jack Devoe on the ground that he had been advised that they had attempted to dissuade the boys from their action.

Admit Disturbing Peace.

The boys, Bob Leinberger, 16, of 3313 South Twenty-eighth street, Tom Schlaebitz, 17, of 3040 Summit street, Bob Stone, 17, of 2301 Park street, Kenneth Bolus, 16, of 319 South Twenty-fifth street, and Paul Mulder, 17, of 3131 South Twenty-fifth street, all pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace.

Judge Fisher deferred decision on the penalties until next Satur-

Uncle Saves Boy's Life With A Butcher Knife By Severing Windpipe

EAST ORANGE, N. J.—Tommy Stanley was resting comfortably Saturday but he won't eat any Christmas turkey.

Four-year-old Tommy owes his life to his uncle, Dr. Thomas A. Stanley.

Tommy gobbled a piece of orange with seeds in it Friday at breakfast and it stuck in his throat. The boy couldn't breathe. Dr. Stanley who was present took a nine-inch-long kitchen knife and while others held Tommy on the sofa he severed the boy's windpipe to permit him to breathe.

Removed to Presbyterian hospital, Dr. Henry B. Orton, a throat specialist extracted the orange and Saturday Tommy was back on the road to health, but he will have to hold off eating turkey at least until New Year's.

Holdrege Street Bus Wheel Locks

Driver Loses Control; 2 Hospitalized After Impact With Big Tree

Six persons were injured and two hospitalized Saturday afternoon when a Lincoln City Lines bus went out of control, jumped a curb and plunged into a tree in front of 3865 Holdrege street.

The two rushed to Bryan Memorial hospital, where their conditions are reported good, are: Mrs. Anna Mumma, 71, of 5903 Walker street, and Earl D. McLean, of 4904 Cleveland avenue.

Mrs. Mumma sustained a possible fracture of the arm, a bruised left eye and a bruised right leg. She was also suffering from shock, hospital authorities said.

McLean, whose condition was described by Dr. Fred Webster as not serious, suffered a badly injured knee. Dr. Webster reported that the full extent of the injury could not be determined at once.

Others Injured.

Other injured included:

Clifford Zimmerman, 29, of 2164 Clinton street, driver of the bus. He sustained bruises on both legs and a gash on the forehead.

Billy Fry, age 11, 5310 Greenwood street, had a front tooth knocked out by the impact and 12-year-old Jean Forrer, 3518 St. Paul street, sustained a shoulder injury. She was taken to her home for treatment.

Neva England, 49, of 4419 St. Paul street, suffered a cut right leg and bruises. Elva Mumma, 45, of 4903 Walker street, also suffered a bruised right leg, and Mrs. Frank Edwards, 425 North Twenty-eighth street, sustained minor chest injuries.

Locked To Right.

According to a report submitted by Officer W. H. Manchester, the steering apparatus on the bus locked to the right and the bus went out of control.

Zimmerman, driver of the bus, said that he was traveling east on Holdrege street at about 25 miles an hour when the bus wheels suddenly pulled to the right and the bus plunged over the curb and into a tree which was standing about three and a half feet south of the curb, the police report stated.

The bus struck the tree, which measures approximately 12 inches in diameter squarely between the headlights, smashing in the entire front part of the vehicle and shattering window glass.

Zimmerman told police when he realized he could not steer his bus he yelled at the bus passengers to "hold tight," and a second later the vehicle crashed.

The bus was on its way to University place at the time of the accident which happened about 12:08 p. m.

Gaining Her Sight, Girl Sees First Christmas Tree

ARTESIAN, S. D.—(INS)—Christmas was a reality Saturday for the first time in 14-year-old Bette Goudy's life.

Bette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goudy of Artesian, and has been blind since birth. Saturday she saw for the first time in her life an ornament and tinsel-trimmed Christmas tree.

Her new life really began last Sept. 12 in Chicago's Wesley Memorial hospital when Dr. Richard A. Perritt transplanted the cornea from the eye of a still-born infant into the useless right eye of Bette.

The girl, who not yet recovered from the thrill of living in a world of discernible objects, light and color, still has a greater Christmas gift in store—the promise of further improvement in her sight.

But today she was content. She had seen her first Christmas tree.

Oleo Act Ruled Out By Court

Pennsylvania County Judge Says License Fee Unconstitutional

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Daupin County court Saturday declared unconstitutional license fees imposed by the commonwealth on dealers in oleomargarine.

"The fees provided by the oleomargine act for the wholesale and retail sale of oleomargine are unreasonable, confiscatory and discriminatory and constitute an illegal restraint of trade," said the court's opinion handed down by Judge William M. Hargest.

Judge Hargest issued an injunction restraining Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, from collecting the fee of $500 on wholesalers and $100 on retailers.

The constitutionality of the act was challenged in the suit by four grocers, who contended the state was arbitrarily interfering with private business by imposing a "prohibitive" license fee "under the guise of protecting the public interest."

The commonwealth defended the act as "necessary police and health legislation." The grocers replied that the license fees were "far in excess of the amount necessary to police or enforce" its provisions.

Ocean's Rise, Ebb Wrecks Jap City

BY RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO—(AP)—A great, dirty arm of water swung six times at the tiny city of Kainan. When it finally withdrew, there was nothing but whimpering people looking for lost relatives amid smashed houses. . . .

That is the picture sketched in halting telegraph messages from nearly obliterated Kainan on the smashed Wakayama peninsula. Kainan was one of dozens of communities lashed by Saturday's tidal wave, which was felt by coastal towns 370 miles apart.

The wall of water which some Japanese said was ten feet high reached a point 90 miles southwest of Tokyo. There it flooded more than 500 homes in the fishing village of Shimoda on Izu peninsula—famous as the site of the first American consolate nearly 100 years ago.

A Dirty Whirlpool.

The tidal wave smashed the Kochi area of southern Shikoku at least 370 miles west of Shimoda. Delayed reports may show it reached even beyond that.

"The town boiled with a dirty whirlpool," said the first reports from Kainan, in the center of one of the hardest hit areas.

As the first earth shock hit at 4:20 a. m., residents of Kainan fled, shivering, into the streets—fearful as the Japanese are, of inexplicable movements of the earth.

Nothing happened for a while, so the people began returning home.

Then came a great rumbling at sea. It increased until at 5:30 a. m., the first wave hit the city.

People Washed Away.

Houses along the coast collapsed and their wreckage was swept to sea.

Kainan calmed. Forty minutes later a second wave crashed upon it.

The wave splintered houses, uprooted trees and swallowed all within reach.

People caught in the swirling waters climbed to rooftops. Mothers screamed for their children and children cried for help. Some clung in frozen fear and were washed away.

A boat moored in the harbor broke loose, swept in and smashed a house, then disappeared on the outgoing tide. Furniture floated on the growling waters.

The ebb tide yawned hugely, dragging everything with it. Then the sea came back with a snarling roar—again and again until it had pounded the town six times. The last was at 8:20 a. m.—nearly three hours after the initial wave.

Nippon Lashed By Tidal Waves

Kushimoto, Fishing Town Of 10,000, Reported Washed Away By Water Wall

Temblor May Have Been World's Worst

(By the Associated Press).

TOKYO—A violent earthquake and severe tidal waves ravaged more than 50,000 square miles of southern Japan Saturday.

Incomplete figures listed 500 dead, 612 injured, and 43 missing; nearly 28,000 homes destroyed, damaged or flooded, and 500 fishing vessels lost. Only one allied casualty—a missing British soldier—was reported.

Seismologists said the quake possibly was the world's most violent. Six tidal waves, erupted by the temblor beneath the Pacific ocean floor, rushed over Wakayama peninsula and wreaked damage over a 370-mile wide area from Shimoda on the eastern Honshu coast to Kochi on Shikoku's southern coast. Some of the waves were 10 feet high.

Epicenter Under Water.

Authorities said loss of life was not far greater because the quake epicenter was under water.

Saturday night, thousands of Wakayamans fled into the hills, fearful of repercussions. Tanaba was deserted, its 2,500 homeless refugees having sought safety in the hills.

Residents of some other Watayama towns likewise fled, carrying their meager possessions.

Fragmentary Reports.

Only fragmentary information was available from the two areas that appeared hardest hit—the southern coast of Shikoku and western Watayama, both isolated.

U. S. army and Japanese sources released these fragmentary reports:

500 Japanese dead.
61 Japanese injured.
42 Japanese and one British occupation soldier missing.
4,500 homes destroyed.
9,044 homes heavily damaged.
14,000 dwellings flooded.
500 fishing vessels destroyed.

Fire and Water.

An early estimate that probably 1,000 Japanese were killed—based on a report that 200 families at Kochi were "wiped out"—was disregarded later as army and Japanese sources compiled their reports of known casualties.

Kushimoto, a fishing town of 10,000 on the southern tip of Wakayama peninsula — at the southeastern tip of Honshu—was reported washed away by seven foot waves.

Fire destroyed one-third of Shingu, on the east coast of Honshu, and U. S. army fliers said

Chaplin Must Pay $42,706 To Attorneys

. . . Superior Judge Rules

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Charlie Chaplin, famed screen comic, must pay $42,706 to the attorneys who proved to a jury that he was the father of Joan Berry's daughter.

Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid set the figure, a compromise between the $75,000 asked by Joseph L. Scott and his staff and the $25,000 suggested by Chaplin's attorney as the "reasonable value" of the legal services.

Scott, who conducted the case for the baby, Carol Ann, was granted a personal fee of $28,000 and his chief assistant, A. H. Risse, who also acted as the child's guardian, will be paid $9,256.

Miss Berry was once Chaplin's protege.

Probers Try Cite Terry

Committee Attorneys Ask Authority To File Charges Of Contempt

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorneys for the senate war investigating committee said Saturday they have asked the authority to file contempt charges against Edward P. Terry, former secretary of Senator Bilbo (D-Miss).

The action is based on Terry's refusal to tell the committee what became of $15,000 which he said a New Yorker gave him to use against Bilbo in the Mississippi election this year.

Committee counsel must obtain permission of President pro tem McKellar (D-Tenn) and then pass the contempt complaint along to the Federal district attorney here for presentation to a grand jury.

Penalties for contempt of the senate range up to a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

Ask Perjury Charge.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) directed George Meader, counsel for the committee, also to push a perjury charge against Terry.

The former secretary testified he got the $15,000 from Simon Liberman of New York to back any opponent who could defeat Bilbo this year.

Unable to find such an opponent, Terry said, he then was told to give the funds to anyone who opposed Bilbo in the run-off primary. But Bilbo mustered a majority over his four opponents in the first primary and there was no run-off. So Terry said, he handed the cash back to Liberman.

Bilbo At Home.

Sen. Ferguson declared this was impossible because Liberman died several months before Terry's bank accounts showed the money repaid. Terry said he was "confused" and declined to tell who received the funds.

A woman who identified herself as Mrs. Terry said he is ill in his apartment here, under doctor's orders to talk to no one, and has nothing more to say about the transaction.

Meanwhile the 69-year-old Bilbo, declaring he has cleared himself of all complaint about his dealings with war contractors, said he will spend Christmas at his "dream house" home near Poplarville, Miss.

Palmyra Dairyman Herd Sire Honored

A Nebraska dairyman is the owner of the 24th Holstein-Friesian herd sire in the United States to be designated a "silver medal production sire."

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announced that Merle H. Severe, Palmyra, has had his herd sire Carnation Concentrator designated "silver medal production sire." The designation came as the result of the superior milk production of the bull's daughters. Of the 13 daughters which have completed official production records in either the advanced registry tets or herd tets, 10 have exceeded the advanced registry butterfat requirements by 50 per cent. Highest among Concentrator's daughters was the record of 595 pounds of butterfat made by Elm Grove Hazelwood Mabel at the age of three years, 10 months on twice daily milking, during a period of 365 days.

Fine, Imprisonment Penalty For Failure Register Automatic Guns

"Fine of $2,000 and five years imprisonment is the penalty for failure to register any fully automatic weapon with the treasury department."

This is a warning that T/Sgt. Robert T. Fugate, of the local marine recruiting office, passes along to all persons, and especially exmarines, possessing a fully automatic weapon.

A fully automatic weapon, according to the treasury department's regulations, is one that will fire more than one round with a single pull of the trigger.

A large number of these weapons were brought home as souvenirs by service men and have not been registered, Sgt. Fugate reported.

The firearms can be registered in Lincoln with R. C. Reko, investigator for the treasury department, who can be reached at 1644 Cheyenne street.

—Fraud Trial—

Hameyer Found Guilty On Two Of Four Counts

Jury Deliberates Over Four Hours

SEWARD, Neb.—(AP)—A District court jury of 12 men deliberated more than four hours before finding Alan W. Hameyer, 49, of Oklahoma City, guilty on two of four counts of obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with an alleged oil lease fraud.

The jury returned its verdict Friday night after considering charges brought by William Woebbecke, Seward farmer, who claimed he had paid Hameyer approximately $6,700 for an alleged oil lease which was to be resold for $32,000.

The two counts on which Hameyer was found guilty covered the alleged payment of $2,180 and $1,200 by Woebbecke after the purported oil lease was delivered to him.

Judge Edmund P. Nuss of Hastings earlier dismissed two other counts covering payments made prior to the alleged delivery of the purported lease.

Hameyer was given three days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

GIs Given Yule Day Presents

President Truman Thanks Troops In Christmas Message

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The army opened a bag full of Christmas presents Saturday for GIs ranging from freedom for hundreds of prisoners to reunions overseas with dependents.

These efforts by the army to make it a merry Christmas for all concerned were coupled with a shower of greetings to servicemen around the world from President Truman and the high command.

Felicitations were expressed along with hopes for permanent peace and thanks to members of the armed forces for foregoing Christmas at home with loved ones to obtain that goal.

"Much To Be Done."

Their commander-in-chief reminded them that "there is still much to be done" in the struggle "to shape the events of today and tomorrow toward a just and lasting peace for all peoples in all countries."

Formal religious celebrations of the birth of Christ, Yuletide parties and programs and big turkey dinners have been arranged for soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen in every part of the world.

Special gifts from the army include:

Christmas flights home for 62 army patients. They will be accompanied by 40 attendants who are giving up their Christmas holiday so that the war casualties can spend the holidays with their families.

They were selected from Walter Reed General hospital, Washington, D. C.; Letterman General hospital, San Francisco; and Percy Jones General hospital, Battle Creek, Mich.

Prisoners Freed.

Christmas reunions overseas of hundreds of dependents of American soldiers with their GI fathers and husbands. They are being flown to Europe under special arrangements with commercial airlines.

Furloughs from Dec. 21 until Jan. 5, 1947, for a maximum number of military personnel at all stations with the exception of training centers.

Discharge from the service as scheduled for GI's due to leave the army on Dec. 25.

Both the army and navy are releasing a total of 1,760 prisoners to enable them to spend Christmas at their homes as free men in reward for good conduct.

Four Buildings Burn In 'Pennsylvania Icebox'

KANE, Pa.—(AP)—Four business buildings were destroyed early Saturday in the most spectacular fire in years at this winter sports center known to many as the "Icebox of Pennsylvania." Fire Chief Patsy Marasco estimated damage at close to $100,000.

Piccard Plans Go Up 19 Miles In Big Balloon

. . . From Ottumwa, Ia.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Jean Piccard and a navy pilot will try to ride a cluster of 100 balloons nearly 100,000 feet into the stratosphere next June from the naval air station at Ottumwa, Ia.

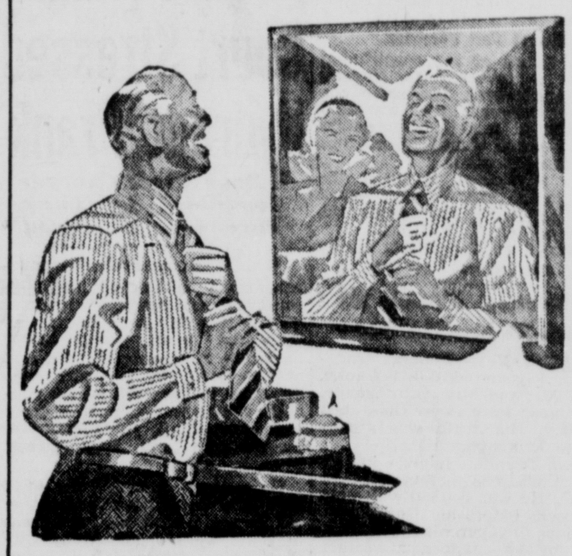

The 19-mile ascension would be more than five miles higher than man has ever soared before.

Purpose of the attempt, the navy said Friday night, will be to obtain data on the physics and chemistry of the stratosphere. The 100 balloons, each 57 feet in diameter, will carry a 400-pound gondola, the scientic equipment, Dr. Piccard and a navy man to be named later.

Use of the cluster is expected to give greater lifting power and eliminate the hazard of inflating a single bag.

The altitude record now stands at 72,396 feet, set by Capt. Albert W. Stevens and Capt. Orvil A. Anderson in a 1935 ascension sponsored by the army and the National Geographic society. Dr. Piccard and his wife, Jeannette, went up to 57,979 feet in 1934.

Peru's Only Fire Truck Is Destroyed

Two Buildings Are Also Lost

PERU, Neb. (AP)—Peru (population 1,024), home of Peru State Teachers college, was without a fire truck Saturday as the result of a blaze Friday which destroyed two large buildings, one of which housed Peru's only fire truck.

H. E. Patterson, owner of the two buildings and Melvin Comstock, in whose garage the truck was kept, estimated the loss at a minimum of $10,000, exclusive of the ruined fire truck and damage to a city-owned diesel road maintainer also stored there.

Volunteer firemen had only a few lengths of new hose still stored in the city hall with which to fight the flames until the nearby Auburn, Neb., department arrived to help them.

Fire Chief James Cotton said the blaze followed a paint explosion which apparently occurred while a paint sprayer was in use near an open flame in the garage.

The two buildings, which also houses Patterson's apartment and a nursery stock, were destroyed. Several used cars were in the garage and were also burned.

Lumber Yard Destroyed.

ARNOLD—(AP)—The Community Lumber Yard here was destroyed Friday by fire which Herman Nelson said apparently started with an overheated stove in the yard office. The loss was estimated at $30,000. The Gothenburg fire department, 40 miles away, was summoned when a high wind whipped the fire out of control.

Chapter 25

For a moment David was too stunned to speak, then he said, "Thanks," and went back to Corrine. They found Paul and Madelyn in the crowded lounge, and formed a silent little procession to the Pratt car.

Not a word was spoken as they drove to the Crockett home, but in the living room, Madelyn looked at old Jason's tear-streaked face, and her own tears came in torrents. She started toward David with her arms out, but he hurried into the dead man's room. When he returned, she was in Paul's arms and he was consoling her with low-spoken words and caresses.

It was toward morning when David went out in the yard to mourn the loss of his lifelong friend. Corrine followed him, and as they stood in each other's arms, her cool cheek against his hot face and dry, burning eyes, it seemed to him that there was something beautiful in sorrow and hurt and loss when she was there to comfort him.

David was more grateful to Paul than he could express at the time, for he stayed over for the funeral on Sunday and Madelyn was content to have him take David's place as constant companion in her grief. They postponed the proposed exploration of the lake, and Paul was sure he could get Professor Wight to come down some weekend and go with them. David told him about the money Mr. Crockett had left, of his hope that underground currents would be located and the flow cut off with sheet piling, and Paul glowed with interest. He went away with a blueprint of the bridge and David's estimate of its cost, assuring David that he would go over the specifications with his father and try to convince him of the urgent need.

David and Madelyn quarreled bitterly when he would not turn over the six thousand dollars her father had left in the bank. He pointed out that she had a thousand dollars that was her own to do with as she pleased, and that she would have all her needs supplied when that was gone.

"No, I don't want you to do anything for me. I wish I never had to look at you again as long as I live."

"You'll get over that," he told her, "and I'm going now and leave you to get over a lot of things in your own good time. But don't think I'll bend an inch when it comes to carrying out my trust, for I won't."

So he closed his mind on that score, and with his heart filled with hope for his own future, he went zestfully about the work of developing his project.

It seemed to David that Corrine was psychic in anticipating his need for being cheered. She came at noontime with cakes or pies or a pot of hot chili, and always there was enough to divide among the men who lived in the tents. His pride in her swelled to the bursting point when the men openly expressed their adoration of "his girl."

There were chilly evenings when she came for him in her coupe, insisted that he go home for a bath and change of clothes, and go for a ride before they ate dinner at a table for two in a hotel or restaurant.

Penelope Graham was beside herself with joy nowadays, and the delicate barrier of reserve which she had built up in the days when she sewed to make a living for herself and her son was dissolved in her delight. That Corrine was to be her own daughter in a little while now was more than she could endure without making a show of her affections, and she told David so one night in early December when he emerged from the bathroom in shorts and shirt and singing at the top of his voice.

"I've fixed dinner for you and Corrine tonight," she said with a sweet, shy smile. "You've been running off somewhere every night you come in, and I'd like to see something of Corrine myself."

"Okay," he answered jovially, "anything to please the ladies. God bless 'em," and went on to his cold little porch to dress.

After dinner they lit the fire for cheer and talked. "By Christmas there will be at least thirty new houses ready for occupancy," David revealed. "Blount and Sykes have certainly rushed those bungalows down near the mill, and there'll be at least eight across the gulch. The Rodneys will probably move in in a couple of weeks."

Corrine's and Penelope's eyes rested upon him pridefully. "Isn't he marvelous, Mrs. Graham?" Corrine cried. "Headleyville needed just two things to give it a good start—a fire and David." She laughed gaily.

There was a little silence then, and Corrine broke it by saying, "I saw Madelyn yesterday, and she told me she had bought new furniture for the whole downstairs. She must be taking your advice, David, and settling down to live here. For a while she was bent upon going to New York."

"Yeah, I know," he said. He leaned forward, his elbows on his knees, hands clasped. "I expect she's trying to get my goat by sending me a big bill to pay. She's very adept at thinking up little things like that."

"I talked to Gilbert the other day, and he's selling out his shop. He has definitely decided to go to New York. I meant to talk to you about it tonight, David. I think I'll buy his place," Corrine announced breezily.

"You'll what!" He had been lost in deep thought, and stared at her in amazement.

Corrine chuckled delightedly, "Don't hit the ceiling. I don't intend to have anything to do with it. I want to give Mary Hardy and her mother a chance at it. Mrs. Hardy is a very efficient woman. She used to have a shop of her own when she was a young woman, and Mary is so ambitious to do something. She's quite a seamstress."

Penelpe's eyes were pensive as she listened.

"I'd like to have a shop like that—"

"You won't," David interrupted sharply, "so forget it."

Penelope's eyes were pensive as studied her face for a moment and said, "I don't see why not, David."

"Because I'll take care of my womenfolk," he said flatly.

Hill Boy's Condition Reported Fairly Good

Donald Hill, 12-year-old son of Henry Hill, 136 C street, was reported to be in fairly good condition in St. Elizabeth hospital Saturday afternoon after suffering internal injuries of an undetermined nature and bad bruises about the body when struck by a car at Sixth and A streets about 5:45 p. m. Thursday.

LAPEL ORNAMENTS.

By MRS. ANNE CABOT.

High school and college girls can quickly whip up these charmers during Christmas holidays. They're equally smart on suits, dresses, sweaters and slack suits. All crocheted, the variety is diverse and interesting—a bright green and white wool "snowberry," a two-inch cluster of flowers with bead centers, tiny flat flowers on a lacy white valentine background, brightly hued bunch of grapes, a cluster of corde' trumpet flowers—plenty of sparkle to add dash to any sort of costume. They make nice little remembrance gifts, too!

24 Children From Tabitha Home Are Given Christmas Party

Twenty-four children from Tabitha home were given a Christmas party Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liljegren, 2910 Vine street.

The party was in memory of the twenty-third birthday anniversary of Kenneth A. Liljegren, a son who was killed in action on Iwo Jima March 11, 1945. The marine corps post at Nebraska City, former home of the Liljegrens, was named in his honor when it was organized last September.

Games were played by the children, then they were served a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Liljegren and their other son, Ivan. Singing of Christmas songs followed, and each child was presented a gift.

Accompanying the little guests were Miss Nita Nelson, Miss Ruth Peterson, and Miss Jane Reineman, matrons at Tabitha home.

ANOTHER MILE POST

Good news competed fiercely with bad tidings for attention in the news columns in the weekend preceding the Christmas of 1946.

A year of blustery controversy held forth the promise of better feeling in the months ahead. The nation could use it—(better feeling)—to great advantage. Beyond the outcropping of public utterance from many sources of American leadership, there was no visible peg upon which to hang this hope. But President Truman, his committee of economic advisors, and in isolated instances industrial chieftains, notably Charles Sloan of General Motors, were talking in an entirely different vein, talking optimistically. The future is bright, they said. A high degree of prosperity is within the grasp of a nation which must enjoy flourishing business to carry its load of debt.

It may have been the Christmas season in all of its spirit of a new-born tenderness, but the missing link to start things going has been the absence of a healthy condition of public mind, in its place a spirit of stubborn, uncompromising self-interest, and finally a disposition on the part of millions to make mountains out of mole hills when in reality the American people are the most fortunate of any in the world. They eat, they are well-clothed, they have all of the conveniences necessary to their own satisfaction, and that is a great deal more than the peoples of most nations possess.

Britain, for example, is limping along in the cold, seriously burdened with fuel and food shortages. All of central Europe remains upon insufficient rations, lack of clothing, and its people subjected to the misery of destroyed housing. It would be impossible for even the most fortunate in Europe and Asia to understand the basis of American complaints that have echoed across the nation for a year.

The week saw politics boil over in several quarters. In the republican party former Governor Harold Stassen, of Minnesota, completed his formal entry as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Two other republicans with loyal and powerful followings, Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio, refused to confess to presidential aspirations. But one of the most absorbing developments was the formulation of a plan to project General Dwight B. Eisenhower as a presidential candidate, presumably on the democratic ticket. We have the feeling General Eisenhower's enthusiastic friends were not being especially kind to him while he is recuperating in Florida in a hospital from a painful shoulder. The supreme commander of allied forces in western Europe in World war II undertook recently to spread a wet blanket over those engaged in projecting him in politics. But each time they keep coming back and the Eisenhower boomlet gained sufficient momentum to inspire a search of the records to determine the political affiliation of this wise, great military leader. A hasty examination failed to bring out that he was either a democrat or a republican, which is not surprising. Army and navy leaders generally exercise the care to avoid partisan tendencies, if they take any trouble at all to cast a ballot.

Widespread dissatisfaction with the present crop of presidential aspirants is indicated by the repeated efforts to interest General Eisenhower. He is not a politician; never has made any pretense of being a politician. His great contribution to the war and to ultimate victory not only revealed organization and administrative abilities of high order but in welding hundreds of thousands of fighting men of different races into a compact force, General Eisenhower demonstrated desirable traits of attaining teamwork, one of America's prime needs. But teamwork in war in the direction of armies under a man's command, and teamwork in the civilian capacity are two different things, and General Eisenhower has not proved his ability to unify large masses under no compunction to agree with him or to follow his orders. With the advent of the eightieth congress, with both major parties eyeing the 1948 presidential elections, politics will come in for increasing emphasis in the new year.

That elder statesman, benign Bernard Baruch, was endeavoring to leave the finest of presents in the stockings of the American people. Near week's-end as the spokesman for the American delegation before the United Nations atomic energy commission, Baruch called for a showdown on the issue of America's proposal in connection with the atomic bomb. Chief concern was a desire to provide for swift and sure sanctions against any country which might violate the rules establishing control of atomic energy by the security council of the United Nations assembly. Nations are in agreement upon the establishment of a system of watchmen all over the world to detect any violation of the program for rigid control of the A-bomb. But if the violation occurs—what then? What is to be done about it? Under the present established arrangements the security council would be powerless unless the Big Five present a united front. That hearkens back to the veto power. Baruch expressing the American view, took the position there could be no veto on the matter of controls and the steps to be taken under control of atomic energy. In so far as the Russians express themselves they held the position that any action taken to punish violations would be equivalent to locking the barn after the horse had been stolen. If any nation is detected in a course of manufacturing A-bombs the Russians apparently thought that decisions upon war already had been made, and nothing much could be accomplished by sanctions.

The tempo of war undoubtedly is much swifter today but if the bomb watchmen are on the job and perform their job the value of immediate united action is obvious. Germany did not get reddy overnight for World war II. It was rearming years before World war II broke out. And so the American position at least is strengthened by historical precedence, and it does offer a great measure of hope that in the event of violation of control of the A-bomb by the security council, a step taken in time might save the world another war. The effort, at least, was worthwhile.

Flaring headlines on the last day of the week told of an earthquake that shook 150 miles of the coastline of the Japanese home islands, entailing hundreds of deaths, huge property damage, and a catastrophe that in severity was second only to the quake of 1925. It will add to the problems of MacArthur's occupational forces.

In Georgia, Governor-elect Gene Talmadge, gasped his last breaths 30 days in advance of the time he was expected to assume the office he had held for three terms. The inscrutable web of destiny undoubtedly entered the thoughts of all those who read of Governor Talmadge's death. He won the election in one of the bitterest of Georgia's bitter campaigns—a campaign inflamed with racial intolerance in which Talmadge emerged triumphant despite the fact he received a minority of the popular vote. Georgia had made great strides under the administration of liberal Governor Arnall, and Talmadge's return to power held forth the prospect that many of the reforms which had been accepted by Georgia would be wiped out. Early dispatches failed to reveal the line of succession in Georgia's government.

Here at home by way of good news people were told something they knew already. On the first day of official winter, for the third consecutive year, Nebraska's fall-planted wheat held forth the prospect of another record-breaking harvest, come 1947. It was just short of 100 million bushels in the estimate of the federal-state bureau of crop statistics. The bread-eating world owes a vote of thanks to two neighboring commonwealths—Nebraska and Kansas—which in years of war and great need for food have produced more than 250 million bushels of wheat each year for the last three years. Nebraska's southern neighbor, Kansas, producing only a small amount of corn, has its eyes fixed upon a new goal. It aspires to recognition as the wealthiest state per capita of any in the union. For more than a month now a great Kansas wheat belt has been pelted by rains, thoroughly wetted, and while millions of acres of wheat lands were drinking in the moisture for another great harvest next June, hundreds of oil wells were pulling black gold from beneath the surface of these fields. They are well off in Kansas with wealth tumbling into their pockets summer and winter.

Mellowing Process.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We hear a lot of talk about the "haves" and the "have nots." Now just what is it that makes the difference? Well, for one thing, environment has a lot to do with it. And then, too, some are lazy, and some are ambitious. But they are also possessed of tight-fistedness, and once getting it they hang on to it regardless of the rights of others. But we should not allow frugality to keep us from applying the Golden Rule. Anyhow, at Christmas time, we seem to go through a mellowing process, that brings "Peace on earth, and Good will toward men."

Living Costs.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Usually I am against strikes and other organized efforts to get more out of the other party who has to foot the increases, rather than look at the outgo of the dollar earned. But I have almost changed my mind on that subject and begin to believe one is justified in getting all he can and where he can. The cost of living is increasing daily—which is one of the main troubles and why people are asking for more income. When you make a survey of prices of everyday living, quantities and costs—and find that quality is being reduced from 25 to 50 per cent and prices raised at the same ratio, one is justified in getting all he can whenever he can. The next recession or depression will be caused by business interests when they have cleaned up the peoples' savings during the period of World War II, when the shelves are filled and labor generally not gainfully employed business can look at the picture they brought for us.

Hotel Fires.

Fairbury, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Did you ever think maybe that your carelessness may cost someone's life? How often when living in hotels from city to city have you become irresponsible about little things, it seemed to you? Things that cause fires that could have been prevented. Be fair with your conscience. Have you been guilty of throwing cigars, cigarettes on the floor or in the waste basket? Maybe you are the bed-type smoker. Then, again, you may leave your smokes in the windows, on the arms of chairs and dressing tables. These are dangerous traits, truly TNT. Maybe you are clear of these charges but someone who was in your presence was guilty. These things may seem small to you, but it's little sparks that kindle big flames. It's about time after reading about all these fire disasters, that we stop and think. What have I done, what did I do and what can be done with my smokes? Just this, think, be careful, other people like to live too.

C. L.

Lest We Forget.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We are on the eve of a new year, fraught with danger at home and abroad. For we have not yet decided what to do with our former enemies, other than to sympathize, and to help to the extent of robbing our own resources. Let it be emphasized: There would have been no World war II had it not been for German vengeance, and lust for world domination. Nineteen eighteen had temporarily blasted German hopes but with our help, financially and commercially, she again became sufficiently rejuvenated to try her luck at world conquest, at the cost of millions of lives, among whom may be numbered thousands of Americans. Let us go back to the year 1936, at which time in Cleveland, O., the Bund leader, Fritz Kuhn, delivered an address in which he said:

"In this land of liberty we play politics, but not petty politics; our aims reach higher than that. Ultimately the German policy in this country will have reached its goal, when, in Washington, a German will tell the country what is in his German heart."

This speech was reported in "Deutscher Weckruf," New York, Oct. 10, 1936. Read also the official organ of the German Foreign institute in Stuttgart, "The Auslandsdeutsche," January, 1938, page 33:

"May the day be not far off when a man of our race will preside at the conference table in Washington."

No doubt to the average reader this is news, but it is also true. Therefore, it behooves the gullible, kindly, sympathetic Yank to consider well before he subscribes to any hypnotic, tear-squeezing appeal from a former enemy. Remember there is much need for help among the victims of this wicked nation. Why not let the neutral nations help out? They fattened on her blood bath, while we fought their battle, in blood, sacrifice and tears.

State Gas Tax Amendment Is Advocated

To Guaraatee Use Of Motor Funds For Highways Only

Denouncing diversion of motor taxes to non-highway purposes as double taxation of motorists and bad state fiscal policy, Russell E. MacCleery, Washington, D. C., Friday evening advocated adoption of state constitutional amendments guaranteeing use of such taxes for highway purposes only.

MacCleery, manager of state services department, addressed members of the Nebraska Highway Users conference at a dinner meeting at the Lincoln hotel. Presided over by Austin Helligso, vice-chairman, the meeting was attended by representatives of highway user groups throughout the state.

MacCleery informed the group that 19 states now have anti-diversion constitutional amendments and that the legislatures of two other states have adopted similar amendments.

Tours 35 States.

MacCleery, who has just completed a tour of 35 states where he has met with representatives of highway user organization and public officials, advised the Nebraska conference that highway user groups in any state now diverting motor taxes will vigorously oppose any increase of any kind in motor vehicle taxes.

He pointed out that the majority of states will have no difficulty whatsoever in matching the enlarged federal appropriation for highways because of the greater than anticipated increase in gasoline taxes during the past year and also because of the fact that highway construction has been slowed down because of lack of labor and material, all of which has resulted in an accumulation of highway revenues in many states.

"Many states," MacCleery said, "showed a definite lack of long-range highway planning. Since we build highways for at least 20 years and bridges for 100 years, every state should have at least a 10-year highway plan based on scientific data. All states prior to the war co-operated with the federal public roads administration in conducting state-wide highway planning surveys which consisted of road inventories, traffic counts and financial studies. The job facing most states now is to correlate this data and use it to formulate a 10-year highway plan which will show first, a priority of highway needs and second, how highway funds can be most equitably divided as of among various classes of highways."

Federal Excise Tax.

MacCleery advised the group that at the first highway transportation congress sponsored by the National Highway Users conference at Washington, D. C., last September, many persons prominent nationally in the field of highway transportation advocated the repeal of the federal excise tax on automobiles, gasoline, parts, accessories and tires which was imposed prior to and during the war as emergency taxes.

Discussing highway safety, the speaker pointed out that the soundest approach to cutting down the 40,000 fatalities annually occurring on our highways and the 1,500,000 injuries is by education of drivers through the highway user groups such as the automobile clubs, state truck association, farm bureau, state grange, farmers union, rural letter carriers, petroleum industries committee, petroleum marketers association, automobile dealers association and other such organizations.

The speaker advocated a long-range program for highway safety, emphasizing education of the drivers coupled with reasonable enforcement.

Atomic Veto Is In Doubt

Delegates Disagreed Whether They Approved Elimination Proposal

NEW YORK—(AP)—Delegates to the United Nations atomic energy commission disagreed Saturday over whether they had approved a United States proposal to eliminate the big power veto on punishment for violations of atomic energy control.

This was a major point in the American atomic control plan which was approved "in principle" Friday by the commission and it appeared at first that the controversial issue had been decided finally — although without the approval of Soviet Russia.

Members of the U. S. delegation hailed the commission's action as a complete victory for Bernard M. Baruch, 76-year-old sponsor of the American proposals, but it became clear Saturday that the question of the veto on punishment as well as some other points in the Baruch plan still faced a bitter fight.

Important Condition.

A spokesman for Canadian Delegate Gen. Andrew G. L. McNaughton, sponsor of the compromise which the commission finally adopted, emphasized that the Canadian proposal laid down an important condition, which should not be overlooked.

This was the stipulation that the wording of the Baruch resolution must be made to conform to phraseology of the resolution which the general assembly passed last week outlining a program for world arms reduction.

It was recalled that the assembly's resolution recommended that enforcement of arms limitation regulations, including the control of atomic energy, be placed within the framework of the security council, where the veto applies. The resolution omitted any reference to the veto.

U.N. Tractor Lab Story Featured In English Magazine

The University of Nebraska's world famous tractor testing laboratory is being explained to English farmers in a "Farmers Weekly" published in London, it has been learned at the college of agriculture.

A lead feature article in the farm publication tells how the Nebraska tractor law came about, how it works and the article makes a plea for something similar in Great Britain. The title of the story is, "Protection for Tractor Buyers."

T. Hammond Craddock, the author, says the Nebraska tractor testing law was originated 27 years ago. He traces its development and praises the benefits to farmers not only in the Cornhusker state but throughout the United States.

Lincoln Hi Girls Distribute Double Barred Crosses

TO BOOST SEAL SALE CAMPAIGN

Girls of the Y-teen club of Lincoln high school appeared on downtown streets Saturday in true holiday spirits, bearing gifts for busy shoppers—the gifts, little red double-barred crosses, emblem of tuberculosis control all over the world.

"Will you wear the tuberculosis cross today and don't forget to buy Christmas seals," was their refrain.

Students of junior and senior high schools have just completed a study of the double-barred cross, modeled on the cross of Lorraine, which was carried in the first crusade, according to M. C. Lefler, superintendent of schools. This cross has literally become the emblem of another crusade—a crusade for health.

Double-barred crosses were given to all students yesterday by the Lancaster County Tuberculosis association as a token of the association's interest in the health of all young people.

Today the students in their turn pinned the tuberculosis crosses on the grown ups.

CURIOSITY

"Do not open!" says the seal
On the package gay.
But, "Don't rustle it or feel!"
There's no stamp to say.

There's no warning not to press,
Parcels, ribbon tied.
I am free to try to guess
What may be inside.

"At your age," I'm often told,
"Patient you should be!"
But that boy I was of old
Still abides in me.

Curious as a lad of eight.
Though with temples gray,
Still I find it hard to wait
Until Christmas Day.

Miss . . .

Jean Osborn

IS BRIDE OF

DAVID KNIGHTS WALCOTT

At Ceremony Solemnized on Friday Afternoon

MRS. DAVID KNIGHTS WALCOTT

WITH only the immediate members of the families attending, the marriage of Miss Jean Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osborn, to David Knights Walcott, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Walcott of Waterville, Me., was solemnized on Friday afternoon, December 20, at the home of the bride's parents. The lines of the 3:30 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Lowell C. Bryant, minister of the First Christian church before an improvised altar arranged with pink snapdragons and white chrysanthemums against a background of greenery.

Mrs. Harold J. Osborn, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Osborn was frocked in brown moire taffeta, and her corsage was of pink camellias.

Robert J. Ferguson of Omaha served Mr. Walcott as best man.

For her wedding the bride chose an afternoon frock of lame, in the platinum tone, and her shoulder corsage was fashioned of white orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception for a small number of guests who were served from a refreshment table appointed in a yellow and white motif. A wedding ring cake, on a mirrored plateau, was ornamented with clusters of confection flowers in pastel shades, and pastel blossoms and greenery ornamented the buffet.

Assisting in the dining room during the reception were Mrs. J. E. Latsch, Mrs. Daniel Stubbs, Mrs. Herbert Potter, Mrs. C. C. Hellmers, Mrs. Lester Buckley, Mrs. Royal S. Brewster, Mrs. Emmett Osborn, Mrs. R. E. Middlekauff, Mrs. James A. McEachen, and Mrs. John Osborn. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. T. J. The bride made every effort to keep the approaching wedding a secret, but secrets have a way of being discovered. and so it was with Miss Cole—She heard quite a clamor down stairs last Thursday morning, so she rushed down stairs to find that fifteen of her friends had surprised her for breakfast—bringing with them the food, and gifts for a miscellaneous shower. Mrs. W. H. Swanson and Mrs. Rodney A. Rice were in chrage of the party arrangements.

MRS. ROBERT WAYNE SINKEY

NOON CEREMONY TODAY FOR . . . .

Miss . . .

Patricia Jaye Cole

AND

ROBERT WAYNE SINKEY

WHITE gladioli and greenery were arranged on either side of an ivory brocade reredos, before which was placed the satin prie dieu, to form an attractive background for the marriage of Miss Patricia Jaye Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dana F. Cole, to Robert Wayne Sinkey of Omaha, son of Mrs. F. E. Sinkey of Dayton, Ia., and the late Mr. Sinkey, which was solemnized at a noon ceremony on Saturday, December 21, at the home of the bride's parents.

Only the immediate members of the families attended the service, which was read by the Rev. John Clyde Douglas, minister of Westminster Presbyterian church.

The bride's mother was her only attendant. Mrs. Cole wore a black sequin-trimmed frock in the daytime mode, and her shoulder corsage was of orchids.

Mr. Cole served Mr. Sinkey as best man.

The bride chose for her wedding a two-toned black and white wool jersey frock of daytime length. The deep yoke of the white jersey, which slipped into brief cap sleeves, formed a high neckline and was patterned in a leaf design embroidered with bugle beads in black, bronze and Kelly green. She completed her costume with black suede accessories, and her shoulder corsage was of white sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a luncheon for the sixteen guests was served at the Lincoln Country club where the table was arranged in an all-white motif. A long, low mound of snow chrysanthemums and white gladioli formed the centerpiece from which sprays of white pom poms led to the three-tiered wedding cake at one end of the table.

Mr. Sinkey and his bride left in the afternoon for a honeymoon trip to Dallas, Tex., after which they will go to Omaha to reside. Mrs. Sinkey is traveling in a gray wool suit with a side detail of a double row of self-material buttons. With her costume Mrs. Sinkey wore a brown felt hat trimmed with brown and white ostrich tips, and brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She also is a member of the Lincoln Junior league.

Mr. Sinkey, who served with the navy three and one-half years with overseas duty in the Pacific, also is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. F. E. Sinkey of Dayton, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Ridnour, Miss Edyth Haynie and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Keller, all of Omaha.

Marriage of . . .

Miss Phyllis Irene Holbrook

and Boyd Lawrence Brewster, Solemnized

AT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

MR. AND MRS. BOYD L. BREWSTER

THE soft green of spruce boughs, snow chrysanthemums, and tall cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra, appointed the chancel of the First Christian church for the marriage of Miss Phyllis Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlod D. Holbrook, to Boyd Lawrence Brewster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal S. Brewster, which took place on Friday evening at the First Christian church. Four hundred guests were present for the service which was solemnized at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Lowell C. Bryant, minister of First Christian.

A prelude of organ music, including "To A Wild Rose," MacDowell; "A Lovely Rose is Blooming," Brahms; Meditation from "Thais," Massenet; "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert, and "I Love You Truly," Jacobs-Bond, was played by Myron Cavender. Mr. Cavender also accompanied Miss Margaret Ann Amend who sang, "Through the Years," and "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. Hobart E. Dewey was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Arlea Decker of Philadelphia, and Miss Betty Chapman.

The attendants wore alike frocks of claret toned satin, designed with fitted bodices and long full skirts. Their halos were of braided satin, reflecting the color of their frocks, and their Pinnacle bouquets were of gladioli and chrysanthemums, tied with white satin ribbon. Each wore elbow length white nylon mitts.

Miss Marilyn Brewster, as junior bridesmaid, appeared in a frock of white lace and net over matching taffeta. Her pinnacle bouquet of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums, was centered with carnations in the maroon shade.

Darrel Devoe served Mr. Brewster as best man, and the ushers were Ernest Rokahr, William Holbrook, Jack Holbrook, Reuben Haun, and John Slothower.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of ivory satin. The bodice, with its marquisette yoke and long, tapering sleeves was fitted and joined to the skirt to create a front pincesse line. The skirt was slightly fulled at the back, and ended in a court train. Her veil of bridal illusion was fingertip length and the three tiers were held to the head with a coronet of satin. Her princess bouquet of gardenias was centered with a corsage of orchids. She carried the bridal handkerchief of the bridegroom's grandmother, and her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

At the reception, held in the church parlors following the ceremony, the refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake encircled with greenery and white pom poms. At either end of the table were crystal candelabra with lighted white tapers. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Cora Roberts, Mrs. Willis D. Wright, Mrs. Floyd Boswell, Mrs. Omar Eller, Mrs. C. S. Mahaffey, Mrs. R. M. Benson, Mrs. W. I. Tripp, Mrs. John Slothower, Mrs. Eugene Stearns, Mrs. Jack Kennedy, Mrs. Cliff Maynard, Miss Rachel Ann Locke, Miss Doris Kentner, Miss Mary Helen Sinclair. The guest book was in charge of Miss Amy Ladd Colburn.

For the honeymoon trip Mrs. Brewster wore a gabardine suit in the griege tone, with brown top coat, and brown accessories.

Mrs. Brewster is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Brewster is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Wheat, Corn Are Irregular

CHICAGO—(AP)—Mills bought wheat futures Saturday following overnight sales of a fair quantity of the bread cereal to Mexico, but this support was unable to stem the decline which started with the agriculture department's announcement that a record-breaking winter wheat crop was indicated.

Wheat was down around a cent most of the session. Corn and oats were off small fractions. Both feed grains were adversely affected by indications that the increase in the spring pig crop will not be as large as desired. There was a good shipping demand for corn sales totaling 250,000 bushels.

December oats, in which trading ended at the close, finished on a split quotations, 83½@81c. This was ⅝ to 3⅜ cents under yesterday's finish. Wheat finished ½ cent lower to 1 cent higher, January $2.11, corn was ⅜ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher, January $1.32@1.32½. Deferred oats contracts were ¼ to ⅝ cent higher.

Stocks Quiet And Uneven

NEW YORK—(AP)—Profit taking of four straight recovery weeks Saturday kept the stock market slightly uneven position although assorted favorites managed to display a certain amount of strength.

Dealings were relatively quiet throughout. Early gains running to a point or so evaporated in a number of cases as the session proceeded and mixed tendencies persisted near the close. Transfers for the two hours were in the neighborhood of 600,000 shares.

Bonds were narrow.

Westinghouse Is Low Bidder Lincoln General Generator

. . . $3,649 QUOTED

Bids were opened by the city clerk Saturday from three firms offering to furnish Lincoln General hospital with a 25-kilowatt steam turbine generator to furnish standby service in case of emergency power failure.

The lowest bid was submitted by the Westinghouse Electric corporation, which quoted $3,649 as the cost of the generator with an alternate bid of $2,761 for a generator which does not quite meet the qualifications set up by the city engineer. Delivery was promised within 15 months with a possible price increase adjustment during that period not to exceed 30 per cent.

The Worthington Pump and Machinery corporation bid $3,750, promising delivery within eight months and with no more than a 20 per cent increase in price during that period.

The General Electric corporation bid $3,773, with an alternate bid of $3,028. Delivery was promised within 10 months with a possible price increase not to exceed 30 per cent.

The city engineer's estimate for cost of the generator was set at $4,500, an estimate purposely placed at that high figure to allow for possible price increases if delays in delivery were necessary.

Nebraska Wesleyan Seismograph Records Violent Earth Shocks

Dr. J. C. Jensen reported to The Star Saturday that the government seismograph at Nebraska Wesleyan university recorded violent shocks in the direction of Japan at 1:32 p. m. Friday.

Further indicating the violence of the quake, the seismograph recorded earth vibrations for three hours following the initial shock, Dr. Jensen said.

Additional quakes reported to have occurred about 4:30 a. m. Saturday will probably be indicated Saturday afternoon when the photographic record of seismographic readings for the past 24 hours is developed, Dr. Jensen added. This record is developed each afternoon at 4 p. m.

New York Recordings.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham university seismologist, said the university seismograph recorded "fairly severe" earthquakes at 4:32.13 and 4:42.52 a. m. (CST) Saturday about 6,000 miles from New York in an undetermined direction.

He also reported that recordings of Friday's earthquake—recorded in New York at 1:33 p. m. (CST)—showed it to be considerably south of the Japanese islands.

Today's new quake also was recorded at England's West Bromwich observatory, where Seismologist J. J. Shaw said the tremors lasted about two hours.

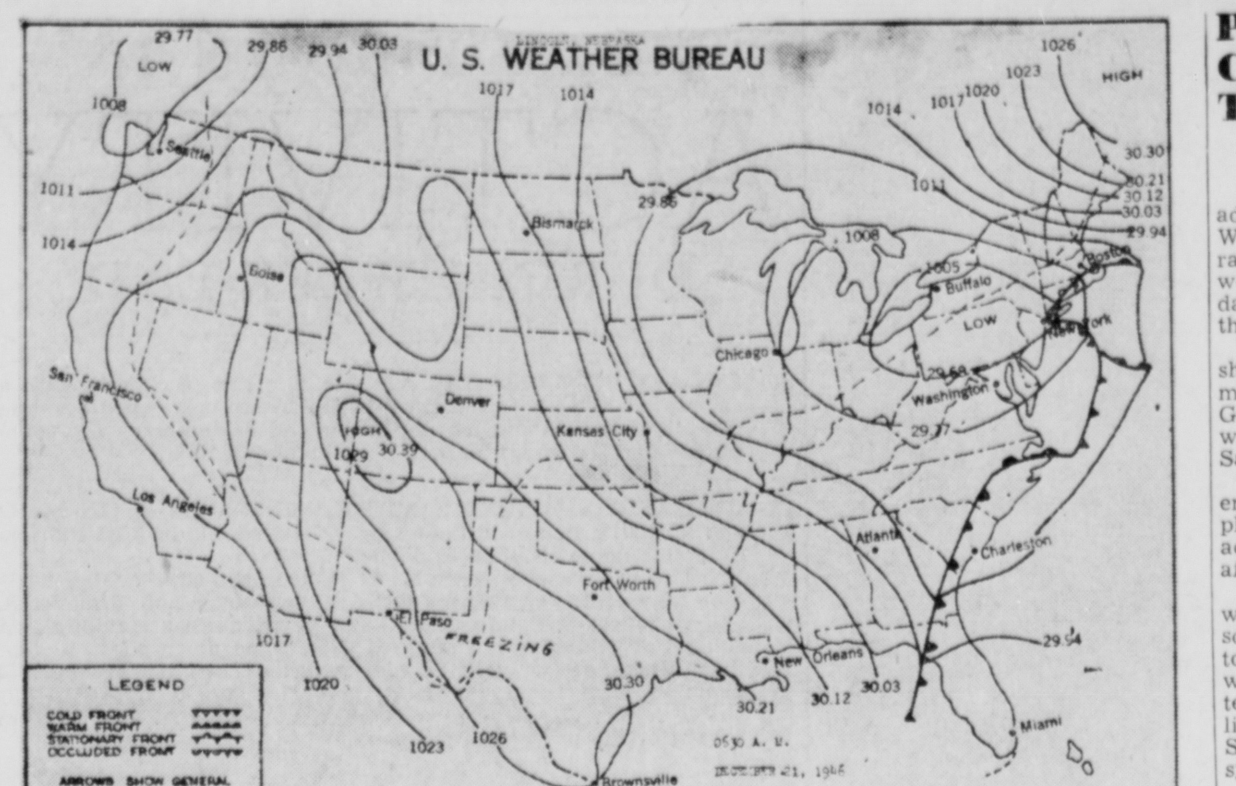

Christmas Mailing Passes Peak Rush

The unprecedented mailing of Christmas packages, cards, and letters at the local postoffice continued strong Saturday, but postal officials reported that the holiday mailing rush, which set five new postoffice records this week, had reached its peak.

Postmaster O. E. Jerner stated that the flood of Yuletide mail had begun a gradual decline today, but that the mail was still far over last year's totals in all classes.

In order to move the record volume of business, Sunday deliveries of parcel post packages will be made. The postoffice has added a force of 48 extra men and 18 extra trucks to handle the work.

Latest record to fall at the postoffice was Friday when 7,459 pounds of incoming first class mail arrived at the postoffice. This topped Thursday's total of 7,100 pounds which was the previous high.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—Temperatures continue above the seasonal normal in most sections from the Northern Rockies eastward. The eastward movement of the trough of low pressure was attended by snow Friday and Friday night in most midwest sections, with rain farther east except for snow in the extreme north; and snow continues Saturday morning in the Great Lakes Region and the Ohio Valley. Rain occurred also in southeastern sections from the Mississippi River eastward. Snow depths of 2 to 8 inches are recorded in the Great Lakes Region. Rainfall was heavy in Atlantic Coast sections from New England to eastern North Carolina and locally in the Appalachian Mountain Region. Snowfall was quite light in the upper Mississippi Valley.

Mead Ordnance Head To Tokyo

NATIVE NEBRASKAN WILL COMMAND NOP

WAHOO, Neb. —(AP)— Major Edwin J. Grayson, commanding officer of the Nebraska Ordnance plant near here, announced Saturday he has been unexpectedly ordered to Yokohama, Japan.

His successor here temporarily will be Capt. Oliver M. Hirsch, now commanding officer of the Cornhusker Ordnance plant at Grand Island. Captain Hirsch will command both establishments until he is succeeded at NOP by Major Donald Starr, a Nebraska native now on duty at the Cactus Ordnance works, Dumas, Tex.

Producing Fertilizer.

Both the Nebraska Ordnance plant and the Cornhusker Ordnance plant now are engaged in producing nitrate fertilizer, much of it for shipment overseas under a government program based on belief the fertilizer will replace heavy food shipments from the United States.

Major Grayson, a genial 52-year-old New England native who has made many close friends here, said "I tried to get overseas duty last year when I was stationed in Washington but wasn't able to get it." He said "My transfer leaves me with only two regrets—leaving my family and leaving the state of Nebraska, for which I have a deep affection."

His wife is the former Frances Allen, a native of Lincoln and daughter of Harlan C. Allen, a former Lincoln resident. She is a graduate of Cotner college, Lincoln.

Major Grayson was with the U. S. treasury department's procurement division before being commissioned an officer in the ordnance department in March, 1942. He first was ordered to the Redstone arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., as interim commanding officer; in August, 1942, was ordered to St. Louis to assist in establishing an office of field director of ammunition plants; in February, 1943, was ordered to the Kingsbury Ordnance plant, Laporte, Ind., as operators officer, and in January, 1944, was ordered to the Cornhusker Ordnance plant as army inspector of ordnance. He served at Grand Island until March of 1945 when he returned to the office of field director of ammunition plants at St. Louis and shortly thereafter returned to the office of chief of ordnance in Washington.

He is due at Camp Stoneman, Calif., Jan. 8, to await shipping.

CONSIDERING MOTEL PERMIT SPECIAL SESSION

. . . Zoning Board

To decide whether the property on which J. Phillip Mahoney wishes to build and operate a cabin motel is in or out of the city limits, and whether he should be granted a permit to do so will concern a special city zoning board meeting called for 10 a. m. Monday.

After the proposal was considered by the board Thursday on the basis that the property northeast of the junction of highways 6 and 77 was located outside the city limits, the board was informed that it was inside the city limits and therefore would have to be considered under city zoning rules.

The board decided to take no action. After the decision was rendered, Mahoney's attorney, Jack Devoe, called to the attention of Board Chairman Clarence Miles that the property had been removed from the city limits by action of the District court in deciding a suit which was not contested by the city.

Early Visit From Destructive Santa Baffles Mrs. Frey

There was an early visitor down the chimney out at 2300 South Thirty-fifth street Friday afternoon, Mrs. C. E. Frey reported to the Star. Only it wasn't Santa Claus.

Entering her living room Friday afternoon, Mrs. Frey discovered broken vases, toppled lamps, the Christmas tree ornaments scattered and broken over the floor. Closer examination showed teeth marks on all the window sills in the room.

Running upstairs, Mrs. Frey discovered the upstairs in complete disorder. Somewhat alarmed she ran downstairs again through the living room into the dining room. Perched on the back of a chair calmly eating nuts from a Christmas bowl on the table was her early St. Nick. He was a little brown squirrel with twinkling eyes and four busy paws that had come down the chimney. And as Mrs. Frey opened the window to let him out, he thanked her very politely for the Christmas cheer.

QUAKE HITS JAPAN

flames still were visible there this afternoon.

The temblor was recorded at 4:20 a.m. (1:20 p.m., Friday, CST). Slight tremors followed about every half hour.

Large Area Affected.

Damage extended from the northern coast of Kyushu through Shikoku and north to Shizuoka prefecture on Honshu. Kyodo news agency said the havocked area extended 340 miles at its longest and 60 miles wide.

Osaka, Japan's second largest city, reported 14 killed, heavy property damage and water three feet deep in some sections.

The famous cities of Kyoto and Nara, both former Japanese capitals near Osaka, appeared to have escaped any but minor damage. Both escaped bomb damage during the war.

The U. S. military government said Osaka has five days food rations for 50,000 people. Large quantities of imported grain recently were released to Japanese at Kobe. Authorities said they considered the food situation good at both places.

No U. S. Casualties.

However, U. S. military officials said it may be necessary to supply stricken areas on the Wakayama peninsula by boat because of communications disruptions.

Although concern was expressed over the situation in southern Shikoku island, army officers said no outside help would be needed.

American and British occupation forces presumably escaped with one casualty—one unidentified British soldier missing from Miho—although the British were in the center of the havocked area. British headquarters at Kure, 170 miles west of Osaka, was damaged.

Seven-foot Tidal Wave.

The seven foot tidal wave which inundated the southwestern coast of Wakayama peninsula and struck heavily at the southern coast of Shikoku was reported to have caused the major damage.

Railroads and communications were snarled. Electric, telephone, telegraph and railroad lines, particularly on the northern shores of the inland sea, were cut in many places. Numerous communities were isolated.

Damage extended from atom-bombed Hiroshima on the west to Miho on the north central coast of Honshu, bordering the Sea of Japan, and to the southern tip of Wakayama peninsula on the east.

500 Fishing Ships Lost.

Kyodo said the damage extended into 14 prefectures.

It reported 500 fishing vessels were lost.

The public health section at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters received these preliminary reports from military government teams:

Oketa, on southern coast of Shikoku island—17 dead, 35 injured.

Takamatsu, northern Shikoku—20 dead.

Okayama, on Honshu between Hiroshima and Osaka—six dead.

Japanese reports included these:

Osaka—at least 14 killed, three feet of water in some parts of the city, heavy property damage.

Kochi, 130 miles southwest of Osaka—200 families wiped out, 250 homes washed away, 1,000 additional homes under water.

Takaoka, 10 miles southwest of Kochi—90 killed, 126 seriously injured, 281 houses destroyed, 461 damaged.

Kainan, 24 miles south of Osaka—water five feet deep in parts of the city.

Yura, 15 miles south of Kainan—water up to second floor of some houses.

State Committee On Teacher Education Planned At Meeting

An organizational committee was meeting at the University of Nebraska Student Union Saturday for the purpose of organizing a Nebraska committee on teacher education.

The proposal for a state committee on teacher education was submitted to the state-wide conference on teacher education in Lincoln last week by the Nebraska delegates who recently attended a national clinic on the subject in Georgia. The conference authorized creation of a state committee.

QUERY RIGHT OF CONTROL BOARD BEATRICE CASE

. . . To Hold Hearing

Attorney Bryan Littrell, Lincoln, Saturday challenged the authority of the state board of control to hold a hearing on the eligibility of Mrs. Anna L. Hendrix of Beatrice to operate a boarding home for old age assistance recipients.

"Anna L. Hendrix is not operating a boarding home for the aged and infirm and has no license and makes no application for a license and does not come under the judisdiction, control or regulation of the board of control," Littrell said.

He declared that that board is "in the position of being the accuser, prosecutor and judge" in the case, and thus is violating Mrs. Hendrix's constitutional rights.

In support of its charges the board Friday called two former residents of the home and Mrs. Rhoda Pope, Jensen, and Pauline Schindler, Beatrice, former employes.

Miss Agatha Sander, a field investigator of boarding homes, testified as to the original investigation of the home at Beatrice in September, 1945. The hearing was adjourned until Monday to permit her to get a copy of her report on this investigation.

Appeal Jail Fee Suit

Isaac B. Flint Saturday appealed to the Supreme court from the adverse decision in the District court in his suit against the Lancaster county commissioners to enjoin them from paying Sheriff Myles Holloway $1.50 per day in addition to his salary during the time prisoners are confined in the city jail.

CITY BRIEFS

Settlement Approved — Thomas Milligan, Cozad, was awarded a lump sum settlement judgment of $4,383.97 by the Lancaster county District court Saturday against the Denver Alfalfa Milling and Produce company. Milligan claims to have sustained partial disability when several sacks of meal fell on him from a pile which he was loading on a railroad car.

Dinner For Employes—Chris Beck Tire and Rubber company will hold its annual Christmas dinner for employes, their wives, and guests, at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Lincoln hotel. Guest speaker will be J. E. Yonts, district manager of the company from Omaha, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Yonts as honorees. Willard Beck will report on business in the past year and Chris Beck will tell of life "Down Mexico Way" as he saw it during a recent trip.

Annual Christmas Breakfast—Employes of four Lincoln theaters attended the annual Chtristmas breakfast given by the Cooper Foundation at the Cornhusker Saturday. Honored guests included R. H. Ayer, assistant general manager of the Cooper Foundation, and Mrs. Ayer; Frank Roberts, comptroller of the Foundation; Matt Schroeder and Bob Livingston, who has been associated with Lincoln theaters for 20 years. Music during the breakfast was furnished by the Freda Ziegenbein trio. Ted Butterfield was in charge of the program.

UTICA CRASH

Ray Willingham, North Platte, driver of the other car, suffered cuts about the head and face. His condition Saturday was reported as good.

Henry Allison, Scottsbluff, passenger in Willingham's car suffered minor injuries, but was allowed to proceed to Lincoln.

According to the state safety patrol, the two cars collided when Willingham, going east on Highway 34 tried to stop at a filling station in Utica. On applying his brakes, Willingham told patrol officers, his car skidded on the icy road, smashing head-on into Lemley's car which was coming from the east.

The patrol reported that both cars were badly damaged.

The installation banquet for the newly formed club was held up for an hour Friday evening while Eichelberger, the master-of-ceremonies, received treatment at the York hospital for leg cuts and bruises. Both Eichelberger and his wife attended the banquet with Eichelberger serving as toastmaster.

Approximately 50 to 60 Lincoln Co-Operative members motored to York for the banquet.

PINEWOOD BOWL CONTRIBUTIONS TOTAL $9,000

. . . 3 Memorial Names

There were three more names added to the ever-growing list of World War II men commemorated by contributions to the Pinewood Memorial bowl fund Saturday with new donations sending the total over $9,000 mark.

Bernard L. Goggins, who was shot down over Yugoslavia; Tillman H. Flader, who was killed in Germany, and Jack V. Ranz, were named by their families in Saturday's donations.

Meanwhile, Park Superintendent Ernst Herminghaus mapped plans for a preview of the bowl's acoustics Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

"We're taking a fine, big radio with an 18-inch-speaker out there, so people who want to drive out to Pioneers park and see just what we have will have a chance to test the wonderful acoustics. We'll listen to the Metropolitan opera Saturday afternoon and to the symphonies on Sunday."

TALMADGE DEAD

were in the hospital, but none was in the room at the time of his death.

Funeral services will be announced later in the day.

His health began to break during the democratic gubernatorial campaign last summer.

In an election heated by injection of racial issues, Talmadge was forced to battle for his political life.

Strenuous Campaign.

His speeches were vigorous. In championing "white supremacy," Talmadge conducted an even more strenuous tour of the hustings than his younger opponents, James V. Carmichael and ex-Gov. E. D. Rivers.

The rural areas of Georgia almost solidly endorsed Talmadge.

Talmadge never sought to make his best bid in the cities. He once boasted that he did not want the votes of people who lived where streetcars ran.

Tabulation of ballots in the July primary gave Talmadge a heavy majority of Georgia's unique county unit votes. He trailed Carmichael in popular votes, however—a fact which supporters of the stormy campaigner ascribed to the number of Negro votes cast solidly for his opponent.

Hospitalized For Weeks.

The election designated Talmadge for a fourth term as governor of Georgia.

Talmadge would have been the second person to serve four terms in the Georgia executive mansion. Joseph E. Brown held the office continuously from Nov. 6, 1857, to June, 1865.

The illness which caused his death struck Talmadge down only a few days after he sought to recuperate from the election.

Hospitalized for several weeks at Jacksonville, the veteran politician regained sufficient strength to return to his home, at McRae, Ga. Later, he consulted specialists in Atlanta. They advised the governor-elect to take a complete rest.

He remained in the Piedmont hospital until Thanksgiving day, and again, returned to McRae.

Talmadge drove his automobile to Atlanta for another visit with his physicians. He was sent to Piedmont hospital, but rapidly began to improve and was considered on the road to recovery when he suffered another internal hemorrhage.

Successor Pondered.

Even while Talmade fought for his life, authorities in state government circles began speculation as to who would succeed him.

The state democratic convention, at Macon, had indicated that his navy veteran son, Herman Talmadge, would be its choice. Talmadge himself was prevented by ill health from attending the convention, and son Herman, companion and campaign manager for his father, ruled with the gavel.

State Attorney General Eugene Cook, meanwhile, said that a state law prevented his issuing an opinion as to who should succeed to office in the event of the governor's death before inauguration. Cook said that he would not issue such an opinion until the governor was prevented from going into office either by death or disability.

Some circles were of the opinion that the attorney general's opinion possibly would pave the way for Gov. Ellis Arnall to succeed himself.

Talmadge was to have been inaugurated Jan. 14, succeeding Arnall who had defeated him in the 1941 election.

Talmadge, a farmer and lawyer, first stepped heavily into the public's eye when he was elected agriculture commissioner in 1926.

Beaten In Senate Race.

He was defeated for the U. S. senate in 1936 as he was to be again in 1938 when he ran against Sen. Walter George (D-Ga), the time that the late President Roosevelt called for a purge of the senior senator.

Besides his son Talmadge is survived by his widow, the former Mrs. Thurmond Peterson, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Smyly of Eastman, Ga., and Mrs. William Kimbrough of McRae, Ga., and a stepson, John Peterson.

Talmadge was born, the son of a farmer, in Forsyth county, Sept. 23, 1884. He was educated in rural schools, received his law degree in 1908 from the University of Georgia, and started practice in Athens.

He later moved to McRae, near Sugar Creek, where he operated his famous Sugar Creek farm and entered politics as solicitor of the McRae City court.

Talmadge was a Baptist and a member of several fraternal organizations.

Worker Held In Kidnaping Mother Of 3

Illinois Man Is Held Without Charges In Five-Hour Abduction

DIXON, Ill.—(AP)—A 27-year-old factory worker was held without charge today in the five-hour abduction of an attractive 40-year-old mother of three children, who was released unharmed at a farmhouse five miles from her home.

Sheriff Gilbert Finch said that Frank L. Sickles, of Wyoming, Ill., 60 miles from Dixon, had related orally that he forced Mrs. Della Stackhouse, a physician's wife, to leave her Dixon home with him after he was frightened in an attempted robbery yesterday.

The sheriff said Sickles led the woman aimlessly through the countryside after tying with a clothes line two of the Stackhouse children, Lynda, 9, and Dianne, 7, and leaving them in a closet of the home.

The children were released when an older brother returned home, found them and told police his mother was missing.

Until Mrs. Stackhouse was released and called her home a sheriff's posse of 100 men combed the north central Illinois city of 11,000 for clues to her disappearance and state police had blocked all roads.

Sickles, a married man, is a former employe in a gas burner factory.

Mrs. Stackhouse suffered only from shock and exhaustion.

Food Prices Take A Drop

. . . In Many Cities

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Food prices dropped in 11 of 12 large cities between Nov. 26 and Dec. 17, the bureau of labor statistics reported Saturday.

Prices in New York declined 3.5 per cent, Kansas City, Boston, and Washington, 3 per cent, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh, 2 per cent, Chicago and Detroit, 1.5 per cent. Minor declines took place in Cleveland, Houston and Denver, while in Savannah prices were unchanged.

Meats, except chicken, declined in most cities. Round steak, chuck roast and bacon were lower in ten of the cities. Pork chops dropped in al 12.

Butter Averages 92 Cents.

Butter declined in eight cities, and averaged 92 cents a pound. Cheese declined 2 to 8 cents a pound in ten cities. Milk increased a penny in Los Angeles, but was unchanged in other cities.

Eggs declined a few cents in eight cities. Orange prices fell in 11 as larger quantities of the Florida crop came to eastern and midwestern markets and the first of the new California crop was marketed in the far west.

Potato prices were seasonably higher in eight cities, including a jump of about 10 cents for 15 pounds in Cleveland and 6 cents in Savannah.

Decline in Lincoln Prices

A survey made in Lincoln among retail grocers shows that major price reductions have occurred in all lines of meat and fruit juices.

Local butchers and grocers report that approximately a 20 per cent drop has come about, within the last ten days, in all meats and lard. The price drop was mostly in choice cuts of steak, beef roast and bacon. Reductions up to 25 per cent were reported in fruits and canned juices. There were no other significant price changes at present, but further reductions are anticipated in other items.

HYDRANT PRANK

day to permit him to study the case. All defendents were ordered to appear in court at that time.

Devoe told the court that at a time when all police were alerted in the search for two hold-up men, a cruiser car had to be detailed to investigate the open fire hydrants.

Drop In Pressure.

He explained to the boys that the seriousness of their action lay in the sudden drop in water pressure it caused.

"This exposed that entire area to fire without the means to put it out," Devoe said. "If the fire department had been called out there it might have been some time before the cause of no water could be determined."

Police reports of the incident included the statement from one woman to the effect that she could not draw water from a tap in her home while the hydrants were open.

"We hear so much about juvenile delinquents and how they come from broken or underprivileged homes," Judge Fisher stated. "This shows that that is not always true."

Otto Schlaebitz, fatther of one of the boys, rose to state that although statements are made about the dereliction of parents and their contribution to delinquency, these children had all been singing in a church choir just before the incident, and asked the court to tell him just what could be done about it.

Mental Health Series

A weekly radio program designed to call attention to the problems and objectives of state mental hospitals will be inaugurated on KFOR Saturday evening from 9:15 to 9:30. Locally the program is sponsored by the National Health foundation in cooperation with the Lincoln state hospital and the Association for the Advancement of Mental Health in Nebraska.

There are eight programs in the series. Tonight's program is titled "The Story of Louise Mapleton," and demonstrates what can be accomplished in a well-run state hospital.

Next week's program, "The Case of Cynthia Edwards," highlights the therapeutic possibilities of foster home care for convalescent mental patients.

Anderson Promises Adequate Supply Of Fertilizer For U.S.

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—Congressman Karl Stefan, Norfolk, who recently complained to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson regarding the shortage of fertilizer for American farmers at a time when Nebraska defense plants were being put into operation for the manufacture of fertilizer for foreign countries, today has the secretary's promise that his department will continue its effort to protect and provide adequate supplies for the American farmer.

In the past five years, Secretary Anderson stated in a letter to Stefan, "The food production of this country has been the greatest this or any other nation ever had and we are in accord . . . with your belief that our own farmers should not be deprived of the necessary supplies to continue this production."

The supply of nitrogen for fertilizer from June 30, 1946, to July 1, 1947, for U. S. agricultural use is expected to be about 681,000 tons, about the same as the supply last year and nearly double the average consumption from 1935 to 1939, Anderson stated.

Rifle Taken—Melvin Kehm, 827 A street, reported to police that within the last 24 hours a rifle was taken from the closet on his back porch. The initials D. D. were scratched on the forearm stock and bottom of the barrel, he told officers.

Kiwanians Hold Christmas Party

Santa Claus appeared somewhat prematurely Friday noon at the chamber of commerce, arriving laden with gifts for the wives and guests of Kiwanis club members who held their annual Christmas luncheon.

With a gigantic Christmas tree lending to the festive atmosphere some two hundred participants joined in singing Christmas carols, led by Hugh T. Rangeler, who obliged with several solo numbers, "The First Noel," serving as his closing contribution. Among the group numbers were "Adeste Fidelis," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Silent Night." Floyd Robbins accompanied the singers on the piano.

Following the singing, Ed Becker, president and acting as toastmaster, directed the ladies to their gifts which were piled beneath the Christmas tree. A Santa Claus, previously appointed, presented the presents, wishing one and all a Merry Christmas.

Knight's Team Set

FOR WILL ROGERS BOWL ENGAGEMENT AT OKLAHOMA CITY WITH PEPPERDINE

BY WALT PANKO
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Wesleyan's gridders, scheduled to meet Pepperdine college of Los Angeles in the first annual Will Rogers Bowl game in Oklahoma City Jan. 1, will depart via bus for the land of the oil wells on Christmas day plus one, Plainsmen Coach Bus Knight said Friday night.

Bus Knight

Bus added that the team would leave Lincoln Thursday morning, Dec. 26, and arrive in Oklahoma City the same evening. The Plainsmen will work out daily the three days preceding the game at Taft Stadium, the site of the bowl battle.

Since Wesleyan accepted the proposal to meet the Pepperdine club in the newly established bowl, the Plainsmen coaching staff has been burdened with dual duties—drilling of both the grid and court squads. Both practice sessions run consecutively—an hour and a half is devoted to football each afternoon and then immediately following the pigskin drill the coaches rush to the gym for another hour and a half with the court club.

TWIN ROLE

Several football players who also double on the maples will miss no regular scheduled cage contests because of the bowl trip but Coach Knight said Thursday night that Wesleyan would be represented at the York State college tournament on Jan. 2, 3, 4 by a team of non-footballers.

"The tournament doesn't count in league standings," Bus said, "and it will give at least part of our boys some needed experience."

The next date on the regular schedule for the Plainsmen is a home engagement against the Hastings Broncs in a Nebraska College conference clash.

FANS FOLLOW TEAM

The Wesleyan mentor estimated the number of Wesleyan students and fans who will follow the Plainsmen south for the bowl tussle at approximately a hundred. These supporters will make the trek by bus and private cars.

Coach Knight said that his tentative starting lineup against the Pepperdine eleven would be the same as that which opened the last game of the season against Chadron. The starters in the season finale were Westover and Tadlock, ends; W. Poe and Porter, tackles; Carriker and Hudkins, guards; Squires, center; F. Meyer, J. Knight, Whitmore and White, backs.

The Pepperdine team won seven games during the past season while losing only one—a 13-12 defeat by Arizona State Teachers of Tempe. Coach of the Waves is Warren Gaer, former athlete at Drake.

BUS SKEPTICAL

Wesleyan's coach is unmoved by the dispatches issuing forth from Los Angeles that claim Pepperdine's ace fullback, Darwin Horn suffered a fractured hand recently in practice.

"He scored 100 points this season," Knight stated, "that's a lot of points in anybody's league. He'll probably be ready to go against us."

The Plainsmen completed the third undefeated season in the school's history this season by bowling over seven rivals in a ten-game slate. The other three contests ended in ties, all by the same score, 6-6.

Wesleyan's season record:
Wesleyan, 13; Morningside, 6.
Wesleyan, 6; Simpson, 6.
Wesleyan, 33; Nebraska Central, 0.
Wesleyan, 6; Kearney, 6.
Wesleyan, 7; Midland, 6.
Wesleyan, 20; Tarkio, 7.
Wesleyan, 6; Peru, 6.
Wesleyan, 26; York, 0.
Wesleyan, 19; Hastings, 0.
Wesleyan, 33; Chadron, 0.

Davis Hot As NE Club Tips Vikes

. . . By 40-31 Count

(Special to The Star)

OMAHA, Neb.—Big Fritz Davis was at his best Friday night and the Northeast Rockets zoomed to a 40-31 win over Omaha North on the Viking court.

The husky center contributed 10 points to the Northeast scoring column and did yeoman duty under both baskets to lead Coach Dawdy Hawkins' charges to their third consecutive win.

NORTH ACES HELD

Keeping Hank Zich and Guy Oberg, the North threats, well in hand, the Capital City club was off to an early lead which proved to be enough to give the Vikes their second defeat of the season.

Only once in the latter stages of the contest did the North quintet offer any serious challenge, Dick McCoy potted a field goal in the third quarter which shoved the home team out in front 26-24 but the Black and White outfit quickly rubbed out the margin.

Gayle Voller was right up with Davis in the scoring list, for he also garnered 10 points during the evening. Forward Mark Martin was close behind with nine tallies.

The loss of Guards O'Connor and Schmidt via the five foul route did not help the Viking cause and the Rockets went into a close-knit defense during the last quarter to protect their margin of victory.

Forward Zich was the best for Coach Spec Nelson's crew with eight points while Oberg was limited to four free throws.

FIRST HOME GAME

Northeast will be idle until after the holidays, coming back to the cage wars on Jan. 3 against the Columbus Discoverers in a home game, the first of the season, at the Northeast gym. Friday night's score:

Teachers, CV Idle 'Til Jan 10

Both Teachers high and College View wound up their pre-holiday basketball competition when they met last Thursday night. Both go back into action on the same date, Jan. 10.

On that date, Teachers will play away from home at Friend while College View also will be out of town on an invasion of David City.

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, has returned to the wrestling game after a few years spent in war work.

Paris Trial For Bribery Set Tuesday

NEW YORK—(INS)—The stage was set today for the trial of Alvin J. Paris, Broadway playboy accused of attempting to bribe two members of the N. Y. Giants football team, to open Tuesday.

Paris is charged with attempting to bribe Merle Hapes, substitute fullback on the Giants and Frank Filchock, Giant passing ace to "throw" the championship game with the Chicago Bears last Sunday. Both Hapes and Filchock were to testify against Paris, who is accused of offering them $3,500 each.

Caeser B. F. Barra, attorney for Paris protested against setting the early trial date but Judge Streit ruled: "The case is as simple as any that has come before me in ten years. There is only one issue—did the defendant make an offer?"

---SPORTS--- Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK —(AP)— As far back as his high school days in Louisiana Doc Blanchard had a leg injury, described as an "ossified charley horse," that was so bad the doctors told him never to play football again . . . And folks from down that way still are wondering if that didn't have something to do with the injury that bothered Doc all last fall . . . Ray (Fido) Murphy, the not-so-big baseball man from Topeka who scouts for the Chicago Bears in the off season, claims that Bob Fenimore will make a better back for the Bears than Glenn Davis would. The Monsters already have George McAfee, Ray McLean and Noah Mullins to take care of the speed department.

DEAK Morse, Manchester, N. H., Sunday News: "Dartmouth seeks suggestions relative to a centerpiece which it can use in ice sculpture for its winter carnival. Most typical thing we can suggest is Dartmouth alumni, portrayed as Indians, shooting barbs into Tuss McLaughry. The old grads would then literally as well as figuratively have hearts of ice."

JOHNNY Nee, the Phillies' scout, has been looking over Clyde Lindsey, who stars in football, basketball and baseball at Louisiana State U. Leslie O'Connor, the White Sox business manager, is the new president of the North American Soccer league. Prediction from Texas: The semi-finals of the Texas high school football championships Saturday should draw 80,000 fans to two games . . . Al Bush, who captained the Princeton baseball team as a marine trainee, has just been elected captain of the Western Michigan college footballers.

Yanks Meet Cleveland

. . . In Pro Playoff

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, winners of the Western division title, and the New York Yankees, Eastern title winners, meet Sunday in the first championship game of the young All-America circuit.

Despite snow and sleet early Saturday, Sunday's weather is expected to be cold, clear and sunny with the mercury in Cleveland's huge Lakeside stadium shivering somewhere in the neighborhood of 20 degrees.

If the weatherman shows the least bit of co-operation it is expected that the crowd will be near 50,000 as contrasted with the 38,000 who froze in the National league final a year ago when the temperature skidded to three below zero.

Coach Paul Brown of the Clevelanders, who remain 13½ point favorites although all their right halfbacks are ailing, has equipped his Brownies with canvas shoes, special arctic-style headgears, gloves and chemical pads that may be palmed and which serve as miniature stoves when dampened by a few drops of moisture.

Pro Football Is Attractive To Glenn, Doc

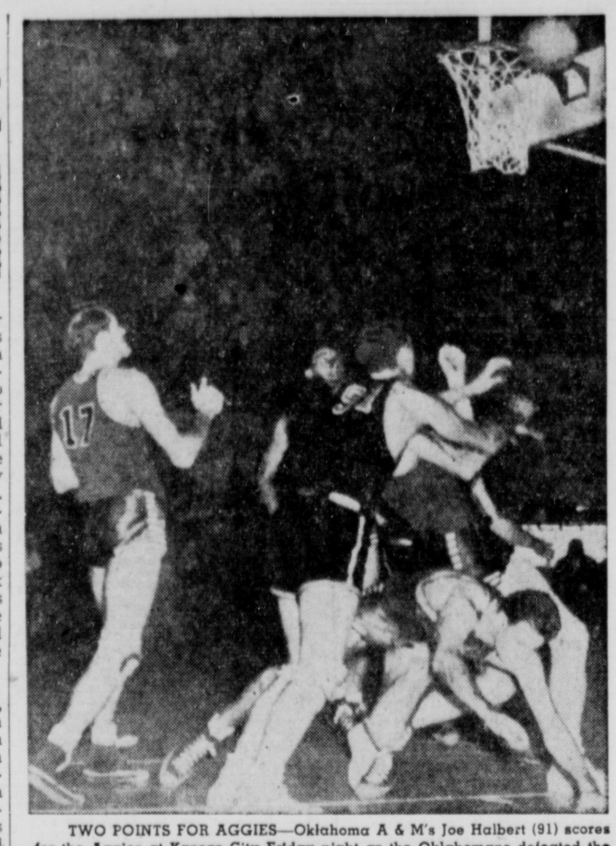

CHICAGO — (INS) — College football's No. 1 and No. 2 players Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard of West Point, passed through Chicago Saturday on their way to enjoy Christmas vacations. Both expressed a desire to play professional football.

Davis, rated as one of football's greatest change of pace runners, was headed for his home in southern California. But true to his football technique, Glenn is zigzagging off his route long enough to visit relatives in Des Moines, Ia.

BY BASIL C. RAFFETY

A pair of basketball games involving Nebraska college teams Saturday night brings virtually all state college competition up to the Christmas holiday season.

Creighton will enter the Drake Invitational Dec. 27 and 28, and will play Miami at Cincinnati, O., Dec. 31. Montana State comes to Omaha U. Dec. 30 and Hastings plays Simpson at Indianola Jan. 1.

That's the program until after school is resumed in Nebraska's colleges and universities.

HASTINGS VICTORIOUS

In contests Friday night Hastings triumphed over Kearney 47-30, and York over Wayne 61-50 in college conference games. For Hastings it was the 39th win in 54 games during the 35-year-old series.

Neither contest was lopsided and the results add little to the comparative estimates of the four schools.

The touring Peru Teachers picked up a victory over Louisiana college by a slender 47-44 margin.

Omaha university rambled over the hapless Billings Polytechnic five by a 97-28 score—but there's a hard luck story attached thereto. Five of the 10 Billings players were stranded in Kahoka, Mo., when their car broke down.

(By a Star Sports Staff Member)

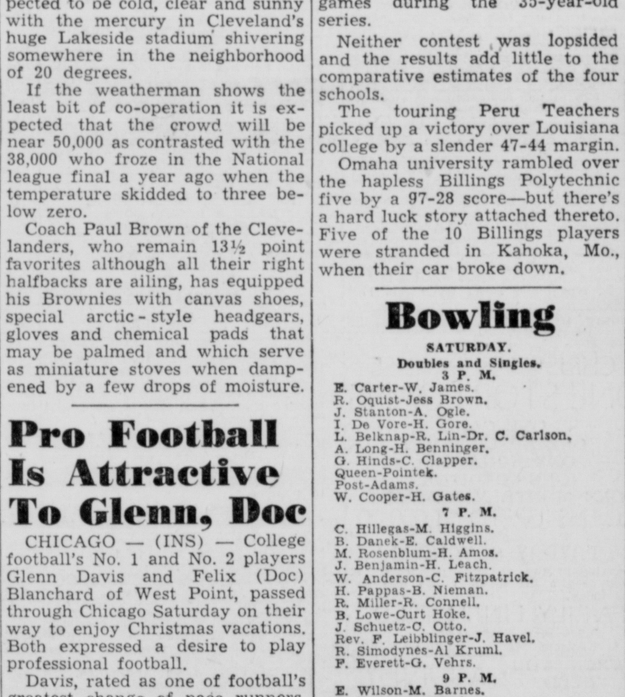

Nebraska's postwar revival in boxing and wrestling was made evident Friday by the annual audit of the Nebraska Athletic department by State Auditor Roy Johnson.

On July 31, according to the audit of State Commissioner Charles N. Moon's office, a balance of $6,838.30 was recorded. The audit covered the period from April 1, 1945 to July 31, 1946. This figure represented an increase of $3,337.09 for the 16-month period.

In this latest period recorded, Mr. Moon's office received $9,164.33 in state tax (5 per cent of the gross receipts) and $2,415 in license fees. The license fees were paid in by boxers, wrestlers, clubs, physicians, managers, referees, seconds and timekeepers.

ROBINSON DECISIONS TOMMY BELL IN 15 ROUNDS TO ANNEX WELTER CROWN

By SID FEDER.

NEW YORK—(AP)—At long last they've crowned the uncrowned champion of the welterweights—Sugar Ray Robinson—and it happened just about in time, too, because the Sugar man isn't nearly so sweet in the swat department now as he was once.

It took five years for the Harlem stringbean to get his shot at the 147-pound bauble—five years while the welterweight champions gave him plenty of that blank stare and he had to go roaming around knocking over assorted earscramblers of various shapes and sizes and wait for the big one. When he finally got the ticket to the title taffy-pull Friday night, he arrived on schedule in Madison Square Garden with a 15-round decision over Tommy Bell to take the championship Marty Servo abdicated when he retired with an aching nose in September.

TIME TAKES TOLL.

But those five years of waiting—during which the uptown beanpole had 75 fights, won 73, lost one (to a middleweight) and tied another—apparently took something out of the Sugar man that he isn't going to get back.

He showed against Tommy that some of the fire has gone out. This isn't taking a thing away from Tommy the thumper, mind you, because the T-shouldered swatter out of Youngstown, Ohio, was a fancy fighting man in there Friday night, and a crowd of 15,670 customers who chipped in to a pot of $82,948 liked him. Some even booed the decision although it was unanimous and the Associated Press score card made it 8 rounds for Ray, 5 for Tommy and 2 even.

SUGAR DECKED

Bell laid an assortment of large left hooks on Sugar Ray's whiskers that did the Harlem hammer no good at all. And one of them even dumped Robinson right on his pretty silk panties for a long, long seven-count in the second round which took years off the lives of the chalk players who liked Ray at 1 to 5 on the board. And after Tommy himself hit the deck in the 11th and had lumps raised on him in the 12th as Robinson tried to put the squeezer over, the Ohio hot-shot came charging right back to take the 13th and 14th.

Cleveland Gets Nod

. . . From Bookies

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Browns and the New York Yankees, strong agents of the youthful All-America Football conference, clash tomorrow to produce the league's first proud champion.

Considering the fact that this is the first day of winter, the weather will be fine for the ferocious rendezvous at Cleveland's U-shaped Municipal stadium.

Brown's Owner Arthur McBride said last night more than 38,000 reserved seat tickets have been sold for tomorrow's affair and if the local meteorologists know of what they speak...they say "not too cold and no snow"...there should be some 55,000 Eskimo-pied observers on hand to see what happens.

According to the bookmakers, moreover, it should be a home town afternoon. Those bookies who had posted the Browns as savage 14-point favorites came in for a flood of early-week derision. But more and more money was sweeping into the Cleveland camp today with the news that the league's high scorer, Lou Groza of the Browns, may play after all.

Groza, who scored a phenomenal 84 points on extra points and field goals alone during the past campaign, recently sprained his left ankle. He was declared out of the title game by Coach Paul Brown, but yesterday, lo and behold, was on the field and kicking 'em to 40 yards between the posts. His ankle still hurts.

Stagg's Team Meets Tex. Eleven In Optimist Bowl

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP) — College of the Pacific and North Texas State battle Saturday in the Optimist Bowl—marking the close of a coaching regime for venerable Amos Alonzo Stagg but not his retirement from football.

Stagg, rounding out his fourteenth year as gridiron tutor of the Pacific coast school, will move on to Susquehanna to be co-coach with his son, Amos Alonzo, jr.

"Goose" Tatum Collects 28 Points In Trotter Win

FALLS CITY, Neb.—"Goose" Tatum and the other members of the Harlem Globe Trotter cage aggregation routed the House of David, 58 to 31, before a capacity crowd in excess of 2,000 at Prichard auditorium here Wednesday.

The "Goose" racked up 28 points while Ralph Miller of the Davids had 14.

Fights Last Night

NEW YORK—Ray Robinson, 146½, New York, outpointed Tommy Bell, Youngstown, Ohio, 15 rounds, welterweight championship.

CHICAGO—Lew Jenkins, 138, Sweetwater, Tex., stopped Nick Castiglione, 138½, Chicago, four rounds.

CHICAGO—Johnny Bratton, 138, Chicago, outpointed Willie Joyce, 136, Gary, Ind., 10 rounds.

WILKES BARRE, Pa.—Frankie Abrams, 151, Pittsburgh, outpointed Willie Watkins, 150, Cleveland, 10 rounds.

Buddy Kerr, the Giants' star shortstop, is a native of Astoria, Long Island.

WHITNEY MARTIN MARRIES

NEW YORK — (AP) — Whitney Martin, Associated Press sports columnist, of New York, and Mrs. Betty Silliman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were married Friday by Bronx couny judge Lester Patterson.

Eddie Brannick, secretary of the New York Giants baseball team, and Mrs. Brannick were the attendants.

Martin was at one time a member of the Associated Press staff in Lincoln and also worked on the Omaha Bee-News before going to New York.

Pro Clash Looms

---OVER PLAYERS---

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Charlie Trippi, Georgia's All-America halfback was chosen by the defunct Miami club in the All-America conference's first draft early today and immediately was swapped to the New York Yankees to touch off a battle of dollars that likely will be without a parallel in sports.

Trippi was drafted a week ago by the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league and was selected by Hampton Poole, coach of the Seahawks, on the first draw here.

NEW MARK PROBABLE

The draft in the two leagues gives those two clubs the right to deal for Trippi's signature on a player's contract and the bonus the Dixie Dynamiter will get for that bit of penmanship is expected to erase the record $30,000 offered to Whizzer White of Colorado by Pittsburgh in prewar days.

Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, Army's touchdown twins of the past three years, also were drafted in the session that started late last night and continued right through until early today. Davis was selected by the San Francisco 49ers and Blanchard by Brooklyn but because both are likely to remain in the army, the bidding for them is not expected to reach the Trippi proportions.

Davis was chosen by the Detroit Lions in the National League meeting at New York a week ago while Blanchard was tapped by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the senior league a year ago.

Other players selected early today, before the clubowners adjourned until noon, were Dick Hoerner of the University of Iowa, first selection of the Cleveland Browns; and Frank Barziauskas, Yale lineman, and Gene Roberts, Chattanooga's little all-America back, by Brooklyn.

MIAMI EXPELLED.

Poole represented "Club X" in the drawing, the Miami eleven having been expelled yesterday from the circuit for failure to fill contractual obligations. League Attorney Louis Carroll said the Miami franchise no longer existed and that if an eighth club was admitted a new franchise would be awarded.

After the decision on Miami was reached Robert Rodenberg presented his request for a Baltimore franchise to the league fathers and told newsmen later "he was very optimistic."

Commissioner James Crowley said, however, that he doubted if a new member would be admitted at the present meeting.

LINKS IDLE

The Lincoln high basketball team is idle this weekend and will make its next start on January 3 at Scottsbluff in the first of a two-game series.

Loras Is Victor Over St. Mary's In Two Overtimes

College basketball results revealed Saturday that favorites ran true to form, although a number had to shoot the proverbial "works" to win from red-hot opposition.

Loras (Ia.) college had the closest call in Friday night's contests. It was forced to travel at top speed for two overtime periods before it edged out a 61 to 57 decision over battling St. Marys of California at Dubuque, Ia.

Greenberg Tops Loop

. . . In RBI

NEW YORK — (INS) — Official American league batting averages disclosed today that Hank Greenberg, the big slugger of the Detroit Tigers, is demanding that his salary be hiked $10,000 to $75,000 next season.

Greenberg, who may quit the game unless he is transferred to the New York Yankees, led hitters of the junior circuit in 1946 in that all-important department, runs-batted-in. This is the fourth time in his illustrious major league career that Hankus Pankus has captured this prized honor.

Greenberg, who will be 36 in a few days, knocked in 127 runs, four more than Terrible Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. And Hank rolled up the second highest slugging percentage during the AL campaign. His .604 was topped only by Williams' .667.

Williams also drew the most bases on balls, 156.

Pat Seerey, long-distance hitter of the Cleveland Indians, whose shoelaces come loose every time he takes a cut at the ball, again was the "whiffingest" player in the league, for the third straight season. However, this time Seerey was tied by Charley (Killer) Keller of the New York Yankees, with 101 strikeouts each.

Tommy Henrich of the Yankees was hit most by pitched balls, seven times.

'Y' Boys Club Announces Holiday Card

All instruction classes in physical education activities at the Y.M.C.A. Boys club will be halted during the Christmas vacation period.

Special activities for the Christmas holidays include a basketball tournament for junior and senior high boys, to be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays. A foul shooting tournament, handball tournament and ping pong tournament will also be run off during the two-week vacation period.

Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 24, a special Christmas program will be held in the lobby and game rooms. Activities will include singing, games, and treats for all. The festivities will start at 2:30 and continue till 5 when the Boys club will close for Christmas eve and Christmas day.

The Boys club lobby will be open each week day from 9:30 a. m. until 9 p. m. except for Christmas and New Year's day. The regular program will be held on Saturdays.

Ben Chapman, Phillies' manager, is high on his rookie, Del Ennis. Ben says he would trade Ennis for the Pirates' Ralph Kiner plus $100,000.
